Big Business Strategy, Small Business Savvy

At VISKO, we know it's tempting for busy IT leaders to focus solely on the day-to-day. We also know that true long-term success requires a wider strategic vision.

As a consulting firm specializing in the business process, VISKO helps IT professionals find sustainable solutions to the root problems. Let us partner with you to implement solutions that support tomorrow's mission now. We'll work with you every step of the way to forge tighter links between your organization's long-range strategy and actual IT implementation.

VISKO is a Women Owned Small Business.

VISKO About Us Page

VISKO is an established provider of technology and consulting services with more than a seven-year history of supporting clients across the federal government and the commercial market. We are a Women Owned small business company focused on strategic consulting services and information technology solutions that enable our clients to perform their critical IT missions efficiently and effectively.

We Find and Fix Critical Disconnects

At VISKO, we pride ourselves on helping our clients successfully meet their organization-wide strategic and technology challenges through business process consulting.

We know from experience that disconnects often occur between the CIO's vision and what actually gets implemented. However, true organizational transformation can only occur when there is tight coordination and cooperation between an organization's strategic vision and its IT implementation. We excel at bridging these organizational gaps.

Let Us Help with the Heavy Lifting

VISKO's goal is to become the preferred small business partner for prime contractors providing business process consulting to the federal government. We may be small, but we can still help with the heavy lifting inherent in any complex consulting engagement.

In fact, it's our small business flexibility and responsiveness combined with our big business savvy that allows us to consistently generate a high-performance impact. We're comfortable operating at both the strategic and the tactical level, and know how to execute enterprise-wide solutions as well as short-term fixes when necessary.

Our knack for attracting top-tier employees enables us to bring the right combination of talent to every project. And we're used to being held accountable, so we know how to deliver against set performance targets.

It's All about the Client

In the end, it's all about the client. We firmly believe that.

VISKO is deeply committed to building lasting, mutually-beneficial relationships with our clients because it's only through close cooperation that we can deliver long-term, sustainable solutions.
